

Maria de Medeiros

Maria de Medeiros was born in Lisbon, Portugal. She is an actress.

At the age of 18, she moved to France. She also acts in French and she was nominated for the UNESCO Artist for Peace.

Her considerable resemblance to Anaïs Nin landed her the primary role in Henry & June (1990). In 1994, Medeiros appeared in Quentin Tarantino's Pulp Fiction, playing Butch Coolidge's (Bruce Willis) girlfriend, Medeiros directed the film April Captains (in which she also had a small role) about the 1974 Carnation Revolution in Portugal.